MOORCROFT 18cm VASE (Shape No 03/7) "WHO GOES THERE" Signed By Designer Anji Davenport. R.R.P. £595.00.

(Summer or Winter, night or day, if you sit Moorcroft designer, Anji Davenport, in the corner of a field, something akin to pure magic will emerge from her sketch book. This time, Anji's fields are covered in snow: a winter sun spreads streaks of cold blue, amber and yellow across a distant village and rolling white hills. The air is cold, and the scream of a distant vixen shatters the silence. The designer's black cat cares nothing for the foxes, the chill of the sky or the white snow. Everything she sees is crystal clear. A wooden post and rail garden fence protects her sanctuary and her retreat. A fox is prowling past with more of its family slinking quietly across the snow in the distance. To the black cat, the fox is a mere object of curiosity, not fear. This is nature in the wild, drawn by an artist who is in control of her design and confident in her subject matter. For those familiar with landscapes in winter when warmth has gone into hiding and humans sit by their fires in heated homes, Who Goes There is an atmospheric picture, a scene which many of us will have studied at some time or another in our lives. The designer offers us a generous vase, each turn of which reveals something new.)

MOORCROFT 12.5cm VASE (Shape No 372/5) "KELMSCOTT SUNFLOWER" By Designer Kerry Goodwin R.R.P. £245.00

(William De Morgan was a lifelong friend of William Morris, and worked with him at Morris, Marshall, Faulkner and Co. in 1863, initially overseeing the manufacture of stained glass but moved on to tiles by reason of both interest and talent. Early tiles at the 'The Firm' could have been designed and painted by several of the principals and staff, including Morris himself, Webb, Rossetti, Burne-Jones, De Morgan, Kate and Lucy Faulkner, and were rarely signed. For this reason, it is difficult to say definitively whose hand we see in the tiles. Four tiles line the Green Room fireplace at Kelmscott Manor and three of these are early tiles: Artichoke, a variation of Kelmscott swans, and Morris Sunflower.)

MOORCROFT 18cm VASE (Shape No 265/7) "KENNET" (Limited Edition 25 Only This One Being No 17) Signed By Designer Kerry Goodwin R.R.P. £745.00.

(Kennet was originally produced at Merton Abbey using a technique which involved printing onto a dyed indigo cloth using a bleaching agent which removed the ground colour and at the same time printed reds, greens and yellows in its place. Kerry saw the fabric in one of the bedrooms when she visited Kelmscott Manor and decided to use elements from the design. Brilliant turquoise-blue floods the backdrop, whilst broad, stylized flowers roam freely and wildly.)

MOORCROFT MANTLE CLOCK (Shape No CL1) IN THE GOLDEN SHRINE DESIGN By Designer Rachel Bishop.R.R.P. £240.00

(Hypericum or Rose of Sharon as it is more commonly known is a semi evergreen woody shrub which flowers during July, August and September. Generally speaking virtually all are yellow flowered and favour a sunny position with reasonable drainage and a moisture retentive soil. They sit comfortably within mixed borders and are easy to grow and have a lengthy flowering period. Gradually garden centres are beginning to stock more varieties as this plant group really does deserve to be seen and used more often.

Rachel has designed three pieces as a small clock, tray and vase based upon a compact hybrid Hypericum called Hypericum x moserianum. This first rate small shrub, usually not more than 50cm high, makes an excellent ground cover plant with arching stems. Flowers, 5-6cm across have conspicuous reddish anthers borne from July to October and these are clearly depicted. They help lift the design together with the typical pinkish red stems and overall golden yellow flowers and their repetition creates a subtle, very pleasing composition. Importantly it turns full circle from Rachel's original design when she was a very new member of the Moorcroft team, before the present Design Studio was born in 1997.)

MATS JONASSON GLASS signed PAPERWEIGHT "SQUIRRELS" No 3280.

(The Mats Jonasson glassworks began as Maleras glassworks, which was founded in 1924 in Sweden. Folke Walwing began working at Maleras in 1924, and was art director until 1970. Mats Jonasson began working at Maleras in 1959. In 1969 he left to work at Kosta, coming back to Maleras in 1975. In 1965, Maleras became part of the Flygsfors group, and then joined the Royal Krona group in 1974. Kosta Boda took over in 1977, and in 1981, the employees of Maleras bought the company and ran it themselves. In 1988 Mats Jonasson took over the company and became managing director and chief designer. The company is still in production today, under the name Mats Jonasson Maleras.)

MOORCROFT 10cm VASE (Shape No 372/4) IN THE OTLEY BLUEBELL CHEVIN DESIGN By Designer Rachel Bishop For The Silver Salute 25th Anniversary Collection R.R.P. £220.00.

(In late April and early May, attention shifts to the colourful delights and perfumes of a walk in Otley Chevin at the height of the bluebell season. The reason is flowers, literally millions of them, lowering their heads into a sea of blue. For a precious few weeks, the spring sunshine filters through what is still a sparse canopy of leaves to illuminate the display, whilst all around the air is suffused with the heady scent of the bluebells. It is just such a scene, of a carpet of bluebells, that inspired Rachel to create this incredibly nostalgic Otley Chevin trio.)

MOORCROFT 15cm VASE (Shape No M1/6) IN THE RENNIE ROSE BLUE DESIGN Designed By Rachel Bishop. R.R.P £310.00 (With the unity of sleek Glasgow style and the spirit of romanticism, architect and designer, Charles Rennie Mackintosh (1868-1928), created one of the best examples of an Arts & Crafts interiors ever seen. Rachel has sought inspiration from Mackintosh's designs on several occasions- often drawn to the rose that was his world-renowned signature. Rennie Rose became a beautifully romantic range by Rachel in 2016. It sings of the colours and method of a brilliant designer and the era in which he worked. Two years later, Rachel revisits this design of famous roses for a glorious geometrical arrangement in blues, with black tubelining echoing Mackintosh original linework.)

KEVIN FRANCIS/PEGGY DAVIES STUDIO'S Large 22cm TOBY JUG "MR PETER CALVESBERT" Modelled By Mr Andy Moss. (As master carver, Peter is the man responsible for the humorous Treasure Jest™ series. His works have captured the attention of collectors worldwide, although interestingly he has had no formal arts training.

Born in 1960 in Hereford, England, he first picked up a piece of modeling clay at the age of three but didn't pursue sculpting for nearly thirty years. He worked odd jobs during his youth, and when he fell short of money he painted china, a craft he had acquired when he worked as a ceramic artist at Boehms of Malvern.

In 1990 Peter experienced a stroke of good fortune. By that time Martin had realised he needed to hire a master carver for Antiquark and was interviewing for the position. Michael Tandy, Peter's friend, was one of the candidates and asked Peter to accompany him on the interview. As his friend was leaving the interview with the promise to carve some samples, Peter whispered to Martin that he thought he could carve a couple too. Michael returned with "The Ram" and what was later known as "Who'd A Thought." Peter brought a series of six ducks, four of which later became part of the Harmony Kingdom "Large Treasure Jest" series.)
